cDublin, (Ireland). The writer discusses the possibility of the addressee's coming to the British Isles. Concerning the question of his coming as agent, the writer says, "I doubt if Wendell Phillips with his surpassing talents & unsurpassed eloquence so finished & elegant, would add greatly to the practical antislavery of the three kingdoms by a lecturing tour ... The actual laborers and the untiring sympathizers are very few." Nevertheless the (American) Society might send the addressee as a sort of private agent and he could improve his health. Mary Estlin "had a poor time of it in Rome from the relaxing nature of the climate which suits Lucia Weston perfectly but is death to her." Asks the addressee to tell Samuel May that Texas (by Frederick L. Olmsted) has come to hand.

„Dublin, (Ireland). The writer heard from a relative that Parker Pillsbury's wife and daughter positively refuse to come to England in case he does. The writer heard from Mrs. (Henry) Turner who considers the propriety of Pillsbury's coming as an agent very doubtful. "You will think of my having placed at one time undue confidence in Douglas-but ... keener witted people than I am were not quite free from the same mistake." Elizabeth Pease Nichol was in Dublin. "She is happily married and is a darling ... Her husband is not at all equal to herself-but he is very passable & she takes a warm & affectionate interest in his family ..." «Dublin, (Ireland). The writer had not heard anything of the S. H. Gay project. "If any such plan comes to my knowledge I will discountenance it." Explains his reasons for never having supported the Philadelphia Fair. Knows that S. H. Gay is no Solomon, having once had "a very absurd huff" with him. Tells about books, photographs, etc. which are to be sent to the Bazaar. The writer asks "if he ever repaid the pound that the addressee gave for him to a poor French poet whose name he has forgotten." Mrs. H. B. Stowe's friend, Mrs. Webb, is in very poor health; consumption is feared. The writer has received a charming letter from Anne Weston. George Thompson has been ill. "I fear this dreadful work in India will destroy all his plans ..." The writer hears that Charles Sumner will call on him. Maria Weston has sent her annual $100 to the Anti-Slavery Bazaar.

Mary Estlin, on March 9th, sent the writer a copy of Mrs. H. B. Stowe's letter to Lord Shaftesbury, Lord Carlisle, Joseph Sturge, etc. "relative to her use of the English Anti-Slavery funds confided to her care." This letter, entrusted to a Mr. Devell, only reached the writer today. Mrs. Stowe had sent her letter care of Joseph Sturge, who sent it on "to the select few only and suppressed it to the general." The reason for the suppression was Mrs. Stowe's eulogy of the American Anti-Slavery Society. Miss Estlin "lays on us a  injunction not to let it the letter get into print." instead of holding bazaars. F. Douglass attacked the writer in his paper. Mary Estlin wrote recently about the death of her father's sister, widow of the renowned ethnologist, (James Cowles) Prichard. The proposition from Boston will be discussed with E. Wigham. The writer's friend, Robert Johnson, foresees a civil war and dissolution of the union "as the most probable solution of the question of slavery." The writer tells about his eye trouble, "the dancing motes," and that of his daughter Deborah. Harriet Martineau's niece, Maria, reports that H. M. "holds her own and ... may live for years." She has published books lately, two about India. The writer again discusses British rule in India.

To Mrs. Maria (Weston) Chapman

«Boston» The writer is sending a "Bee," containing the Wisconsin correspondence with William S. Bailey. "Mr. Bailey, has never had the names of any ladies there. The $200 came thro' Rev. Hiram Foote." Mr. Bailey is at work on a Liberty Bell article. He knows nothing about the recent slave insurrections in Tennessee and Kentucky. An article by Harriet Martineau is to appear in three successive numbers of the Liberator, and then "in a neat pamphlet." Agrees with the addressee's idea of not using "Mrs. «sic» Martineau's name." The writer has mailed a paper from Mrs. «Abigail Hopper?» Gibbons to the addressee. Replies to the addressee's inquiry about her pledges.

Salem, (O.). Cannot go to Syracuse till Monday because of engagement in Cortland, (Pa.). Has no particular desire to give an Anti-Slavery lecture in Syracuse, because much has been heard on the subject there, but will do so if S. J. M. thinks it worth while. Has given S. J. M.'s message to M. R. Robinson and B. S. Jones. Robinson was pleased with the commendation of the Anti-Slavery Bugle. The anniversary of the Ohio Anti-Slavery Society has been a "magnetic occasion." The weather is beautiful. Is glad that S. J. M. is thinking of going to Europe.

„Cleveland, (O.)“ Is enjoying the hospitality of William F. Parker, about the only Abolitionist in Cleveland. The Salem anniversary closed with five to six hundred dollars paid or pledged. Met a group of Anti-Slavery friends at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Benjamin S. Jones. Was photographed, -unsuccessfully as usual. Will lecture in Chapin Hall tonight, but expects only a small audience (in Cleveland). Susan B. Anthony disapproves of a lecture in Rochester on Friday evening, because Ira Stout is to be hanged that day. Regrets illness of C. F. Hovey and Mrs. W. Phillips.

«Rochester, (N.Y.): Arrived at Rochester last night and was met by «Isaac» Post, and Aaron M. Powell. Was driven to Susan B. Anthony's country residence. Powell has been here seven weeks, preaching in the Unitarian church. W.L.G.'s lecture in Cleveland was "almost a failure,"-only 150 were present. There is continuous rain or mild and foggy weather. A. E. Newton, editor of the New England Spiritualist, was in W.L.G.'s audience. Today Ira Stout is to be executed for murder. "Ruffianism" in the city clamors for the hanging. W.L.G. will dine with S. J. May on the way to Cortland and return to Syracuse to lecture.

Syracuse, (N.Y.): Three or four hundred assembled at his lecture last evening, in spite of the pending election. The majority were ladies. W.L.G. spoke on the religious aspect of the A-S cause. The first ice of the season has formed, but the sun is bright. Expects a small audience in Albany, "a corrupt and selfish place." Tried to dissuade Lydia Mott from attempting a meeting. His success in Syracuse was due to S. J. May's influence and propoganda. Hopes to be at home in a week. May will stop in Boston. Friends have donated a sum of money for the traveling expenses of his European trip. Gerrit Smith gave fifty dollars.

"No pl.: Calls the attention of the addressee, as the historian of the American Episcopal Church, to the Book of Common Prayer, now being circulated in the South, which contains an "expurgated" version of the picture by Ary Scheffer, with the supplicating slave removed from the presence of Christ. This prayer-book will be forwarded to the addressee "in the hope of a word of rebuke from you for Christ's sake as the Redeemer of man from the sin of slavery..." The writer is sending also a copy of the Liberty Bell, in which she has referred to the expurgated picture, and a copy of the National Anti-Slavery Standard. Recall how much abolitionists owe to the addressee's father (Wilberforce).

To Henry Clarke Wright

Boston. A letter about the legacy left to H. C. W. by C. F. Hovey, one-fourth of which H. C. W. has directed W. Phillips to pay to W. L. G. and wife or, on their refusing it, to deposit it for the benefit of Fanny and Franky Garrison. W. L. G. declares that whatever they have done for H. C. W. was done as "to one of our family." They accept the deposit for the children. Praises the courage of C. F. Hovey, who left $40,000 for unpopular reforms. W. L. G. cannot join H. C. W. on the western tour because of bronchial trouble. Has not attempted to lecture in the last four months.
